The SAFTA Writers Coop is a 10×10' dry cabin approximately a fourth of a mile from the SAFTA farmhouse. This tiny house is furnished with a single bed, a desk, a wood-burning stove, a deck that looks over the pasture and pond, as well as a personal detached outhouse. While the cabin has neither electricity nor running water, residents will have full access to the amenities at farmhouse as well as solitude from other residents to write in the rolling hills of East Tennessee. This residency runs $150/week. Would you be interested in being considered for a Coop residency as well?

The cost of the farmhouse residency is $250 per week. There may be some partial scholarships for those with large-scale financial hardship. Please explain if you believe you should qualify for financial aid.
